E5 - FIELD TRIP TO PRODUCTION SYSTEMS AND THE INTERACTION WITH SOIL AND ENVIRONMENT IN PARANÁ STATE

Summary: The 5-day tour will take place in the State of Paraná, departing from Curitiba and ending in Foz do Iguaçu. It will cover technical and touristic aspects. In the technical part it is foreseen the observation and discussion of agricultural production systems and their interaction with the soils. To diversify and enhance the technical discussion, different systems will be involved, such as integration crop-livestock-forest, highly intensive agricultural systems, and family farming systems; all closely associated to the land use potential. As for the touristic attractions, two beautiful and international renowned parks will be visited: the Vila Velha State Park, and the Foz do Iguaçu Falls National Park.

Period:

Post event; 19 to 23st of August, 2018; 725 km in four five days.

Guides:

Drs. Gustavo Ribas Curcio and Annete Bonnet (Researchers – Brazilian Agriculture Cooperation – Forest Center – EMBRAPA)
